DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to the amendment filed on March 9, 2009.

Claim Objections

The objection has been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The rejection has been withdrawn.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 23-29 are rejected for being directed to a card. The Applicant argues that the convenience card has embedded instructions; however, the instructions embedded within the card are not carried out utilizing a computer. Therefore, the rejection will be maintained.

Claims 30-47 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101. Based on Supreme Court precedent and recent Federal Circuit decisions, a 35 U.S.C § 101 process must (1) be tied to a particular machine or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or materials) to a different state or thing. In re Bilski et al, 88 USPQ 2d 1385 CAFC (2008); Diamond v. Diehr, 450 U.S. 175, 184 (1981); Parker v. Flook, 437 U.S. 584, 588 n.9 (1978); Gottschalk v. Benson, 409 U.S. 63, 70 (1972); Cochrane v. Deener, 94 U.S. 780,787-88 (1876).

An example of a method claim that would not qualify as a statutory process would be a claim that recited purely mental steps. Thus, to qualify as a § 101 statutory process, the claim should positively recite the particular machine to which it is tied, for example by identifying the apparatus that accomplishes the method steps, or positively recite the subject matter that is being transformed, for example by identifying the material that is being changed to a different state.

Here, Applicant's method steps are not tied to a particular machine and do not perform a transformation. Thus, the claims are non-statutory.

The mere recitation of the machine in the preamble with an absence of a machine in the body of the claim fails to make the claim statutory under 35 USC 101. Note the Board of Patent Appeals Informative Opinion Ex parte Langemyer et al.

The Applicant argues that the method carries out an electronic transformation of data. However, the method is not executed by a computer. Therefore, there is not transformation of data, as claimed by the Applicant. The rejection will be maintained.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-20 and 22-51 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Sosa (2002/0099607) in view of Walker (6,690,779) and Liebermann (7,287,009), as set forth in the previous Office Action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed March 9, 2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The Applicant argues that the 101 rejection may not be maintained. In response, please see remarks under the above 101 heading.

The Applicant argues that none of the references disclose or teach "stored transaction information identifying prior money transfer recipients of the customer for use by the point of sale device to automatically prepare a transaction for associated with the request to process the money transfer transaction." In response, Sosa discloses that the " USER2 519 may cut and paste the valid charge information 617 from the cash account system 107 into the merchant purchase page or may select an automatic population option offered by the cash account system 107 that automatically fills the valid charge information 617 into the purchase page upon indication by USER2 519. (para.62)." The automatic population featured may be used to populate forms with saved information. Liebermann teaches identifying historical information pertaining to money transfer recipients. The Examiner is interpreting the automatic population feature of Sosa as being capable of automatically populating any type of information into the form, including historical information of money transfer recipients. Further, automatically populating documents is not a novel feature. Therefore, the Examiner is interpreting the combination of references as reading onto the invention as claimed.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
